RE: NACTO Global Street Design Guide

Dear Ms. Sadik-Khan:

The District Department of Transportation (DDOT) is pleased to endorse the NACTO Global Street Design Guide as a worldwide resource for building sustainable transportation systems and active public spaces for today and generations to come.

The NACTO Global Street Design Guide provides an important guide for the streets we need in the United States and throughout the world. The guide is easy to read, accessible to multiple audiences, and addresses critical aspects of implementation. New content on the planning process and street lighting represent genuine enhancements for the family of NACTO guidance documents.

We look forward to using the guide as a resource document alongside our existing design and engineering manuals and standards in the District of Columbia.

Sincerely,

Leif A. Dormsjo
Director
