Dear Janette Sadik-Khan:

The NACTO Urban Street Design Guide, together with the suite of other design guides crafted by the National Organization of City Transportation Officials (NACTO), has been an invaluable resource in ensuring safe, vibrant streets in the City of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

The newly released NACTO Global Street Design Guide extends this resource and guidance to a larger audience. We are confident that it too will be a resource for our sister cities around the globe in promoting safety, quality urban design and efficient mobility systems in a range of contexts and conditions.

Pittsburgh's Department of Mobility and Infrastructure is pleased to offer our endorsement of the NACTO Global Street Design Guide as an important blueprint for the streets we need in an urban century.

Sincerely,

Karina Ricks
Director
