A. TRAININGS AND WORKSHOPS:

19. Each city that becomes part of the Streets for Kids program will need to commit local staff time to participate in the program. For hosting a training, this will require dedicated time to participate in the e-academy as well as logistical support for in-person workshops (including identifying venues, developing invitation lists, printing, coordinating dates and agendas, guidance on site, visiting locations, identifying high-level officials to kick off trainings and workshops, etc.). We expect this work to take approximately ten hours per week, with more time immediately before NACTO-GDCI’s visit. (This is a rough estimate and will vary based on each city.) Please briefly describe the local staff capacity and ability to dedicate time to the Streets for Kids program. (Limit your response to 200 words.)
20. Who else will be involved in co-organizing the training? List any organizations that would be partners on this project. (Limit your response to 200 words.)

21. How would the Global Streets Design Guide and Streets for Kids training benefit your city? (Limit your response to 300 to 400 words.)
22. (Optional) Please list any dates in 2019 or 2020 that we should avoid for scheduling the training (e.g. public holidays, severe weather, vacation season).
23. (Optional) Please list preferred dates/weeks in 2019 or 2020 to host the training based on your local climate, public holidays, elections, events, and other considerations.
24. (Optional for applicants to training only) For this submission, please include a link to a video (maximum three minutes) to tell us more about what you are hoping to accomplish with the requested training and/or funding.
NACTO-GDCI will not be evaluating the quality of the video production – this is only about content. Feel free to submit videos shot with a simple camera phone. This video is a chance to creatively showcase what makes your team, project, and community the best fit for Streets for Kids program. Please take no more than three minutes to informally discuss potential projects, and please do not repeat the details you have written in this application. NACTO-GDCI is only looking for visual and audio information that enhances our understanding of the city and the community. If you record the video in a non-English language, please include subtitles in English or provide an English transcript. Please make sure that the video links do not require a password.
