

JOB OPENING

Argentina, Local Liaison

Global Designing Cities Initiative

Job Title: Local Liaison - Argentina

Start Date: Q1 2025

End Date: Q4 2025 -with potential to continue depending on funding

Salary: Salaries are indexed to NGOs in Argentina and paid in local currency, ARS, with inflation adjustments made quarterly, as applicable.

Location: Remote/ Work from home - Córdoba, Argentina

The Global Designing Cities Initiative (GDCI) is seeking a Local Liaison based in Córdoba, Argentina, to join its mission to transform streets around the world. This role will act as a liaison for GDCI, operating alongside GDCI's team and local government officials, on-the-ground personnel, and service providers to build capacity, design safer streets, and advance the work of GDCI.

Who we are

The Global Designing Cities Initiative (GDCI) was launched in 2014, with a mission to transform streets around the world. We inspire leaders, inform practitioners, and invite communities to imagine what's possible when we design streets that put people first. We are a team of designers, planners, and urban strategists committed to reimagining streets as places for people, shaping cities that are safe, healthy, accessible, and equitable for everyone. The strategies and best practices in our Global Street Design Guide are the foundation of our work, and they have been applied in cities across the globe, helping to update policies, build local capacity, implement and evaluate projects, and scale up impact.

What you will do

The Argentina Local Liaison will work under GDCI's Road Safety Program, funded by the Bloomberg Philanthropies Initiative for Global Road Safety (BIGRS). This role looks to strengthen our on-the-ground technical assistance and local relationships with authorities, partners, and other stakeholders to help advance the BIGRS program in Córdoba, Argentina. You will represent GDCI in city government meetings, presentations, and capacity-building sessions, during on-the-ground project implementations, and with local communities. You will be based in Córdoba. You will do this work under the direction of GDCI's Program Manager for Argentina and with the support of BIGRS's embedded staff. You must be fluent in Spanish and conversational in English and be versed in the cultural context and local policies and practices concerning city transportation, street design, and road safety.

The primary activities for the GDCI Argentina Local Liaison include:

- Develop strong local relationships and outreach

- Foster ongoing relationships and build new relationships with city officials, on-the-ground personnel, service providers, and other relevant personnel, and keep GDCI connected to ongoing events and happenings.
- Identify opportunities to scale up impact through city-wide programs and processes.
- Foster ongoing relationships and build new relationships with city officials, on-ground personnel, service providers, and other relevant personnel, and keep GDCI connected to ongoing events and happenings.
- Collaborate with BIGRS and GDCI staff for a coordinated approach towards the program.
- Produce blogs, articles, hand-outs, and other outreach material for ongoing projects, campaigns, and events as needed.

Who you are

GDCI is looking for a highly collaborative individual who is well-organized and passionate about designing streets focusing on Latin American cities' context. GDCI expects that qualified candidates will have exceptional project management and relationship-building skills. Working between government agencies, community groups, and public and private partners requires someone who can be flexible with balancing competing needs and proactive in taking on tasks when help is needed, all while representing GDCI's mission and goals. Additionally, you must be comfortable presenting in front of a technical audience.

You must be highly self-directed and willing to accommodate a schedule with some local city and national travel to training sessions, site visits, and other meetings. Some international travel may be required for conferences, training sessions, and other BIGRS-related meetings. As we are a globally based team, there may be some instances of required phone calls/meetings outside normal work hours.

To be successful in this job, you will excel in these areas:

- Excellent verbal and written communication skills: You are comfortable communicating with various stakeholders, including city officials, funders, contractors, executive teams, staff, etc. You are fluent in Spanish and English, both written and verbal.
- Organized and detail-oriented: You can juggle multiple projects, stay organized, and meet deadlines. You effectively communicate with teammates to clarify project scope and provide timely updates on progress. You ensure all final deliverables are polished, precise, "fit" the situation, and accurately represent GDCI.
- Design guidance and reviews: You are proficient in Adobe Creative Suite (InDesign, Photoshop, and Illustrator). AutoCAD or 3D modeling skills are a plus. You can align and inspire local practitioners on global best practices for safety.
- Manage a project with limited supervision: You can execute tasks with minimal supervision. You are collaborative and nimble in approach and are able to maneuver between big-picture thinking and details. You have experience working in Google Suite.
- Work with multiple partners to achieve goals: You have experience working with national, regional, or city policies and guidance for street design or transportation systems, either with government agencies, non-profits, or the private sector. You have experience managing complex stakeholder structures involving multiple city agencies and partners.

Baseline Experience

At GDCI, we do not have minimum requirements for education or professional experience. We encourage all candidates with relevant and differing experiences and professional backgrounds to apply.

Generally, we expect qualified candidates would have the following baseline experience for Local Liaison:

- Four years of relevant professional experience; OR
- Two years of relevant professional experience with an undergraduate degree; OR
- No years of relevant professional experience with a master's degree
- Working knowledge of AutoCAD is required, and InDesign, Photoshop, Illustrator, and 3D modeling skills are a plus.

How to Apply

- Deadline for applications: Applications accepted on a rolling basis—please don't delay! Final deadline is October 30, 2024.
- Submit applications: Through GDCI's application portal. If you need support, please contact careers@gdci.global.
- Attachments: Include a cover letter and resume (both in English) detailing relevant work experience. We welcome additional attachments demonstrating design, writing and visual communication skills, or any other relevant work sample connected to the role. If you've applied for other roles at GDCI, please indicate when you last applied and for which position.
- Benefits: GDCI offers a competitive compensation and benefits package, including health coverage, retirement benefits, paid sick leave, vacation, and holidays. Salary is based on local markets within the nonprofit/NGO industry and commensurate with experience and skills.

GDCI is a fiscally sponsored project of Rockefeller Philanthropy Advisors (RPA). We are committed to workplace diversity and inclusion. We are equal opportunity employers and do not discriminate in hiring or employment on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, gender identity, marital status, sexual orientation, age, disability, veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by federal, state, or local law. We offer competitive salaries, excellent benefits, and a passionate working environment. Salary is based on a nonprofit scale and commensurate with experience.

Thank you for your interest; we look forward to hearing from you!
